Miss Moore Bride of Daneel le Roux

The Pentecostal Holiness Church, of Draper, North Carolina, was the scene Saturday, July 25, of the marriage of Miss Betty Von Moore, of Draper, and Daneel Leon le Roux, of Pretoria, South Africa, and Appomattox, Va. The Vows were heard at 7:30 P. M., by the Rev. Kenneth Benson, of Charlotte, N. C.

Music was furnished by Miss Mamie Link, of Draper, organist, and Mrs. F. Dorwood Moore, of Leaksville, N. C., soprano soloist.

The church was decorated with baskets of pink gladiolias, greenery and pink candlabra.

Mrs. William O. Blackwell, of Draper was director of the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Melvin Moore, of Draper. She attended Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, N. C., and plans to complete her studies at Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Henry J. le Roux and the late Mr. le Roux, of Pretoria, South Africa. Mr. le Roux came to America to study for his higher education. He is a graduate of Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va., Holmes Theological Seminary, Greenville, S. C., and at present is doing graduate work at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., while teaching in the Appomattox schools.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace and tulle with a scalloped illusion neckline, long pointed sleeves, and a princess paneled skirt ending in a tuck-tiered chapel train with alternating layers of tulle and lace. Her headpiece was a crown of chantilly lace featuring irridescant sequins and seed pearls and a fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies and ivy.

The bride had as her maid of honor, Miss Melvine Stewart, of High Point, and Draper. Bridesmaids were Misses Rebecca Anne Edens, aunt of the bride, Barbara Jean Hopper, college roommate, Russelline Stewart and Rebecca Jane Shropshire, of Greensboro. The attendants wore shell pink crystalette dresses with carnation pink sashes of chiffon. Their headdresses were a crown of carnation pink braid embossed with pink seed pearls and a circular veil of shell-pink tulle. The bridesmaids carried cascades of pink gladiouias and ivy.

The bridegroom had as best man, William O. Blackwell, Ushers were Jackie E .Moore, brother of the bride, Wesley Edens and Durwood Moore, uncles of the bride, and Hugh Holmes Morgan, of Birmingham, Ala., and Greenville, S. C., Robert Lee Walker, of Reidsville, cousin of the bride was ringbearer.

Flower girls were Beth Hairfield, cousin of the bride, and Deborah Mundy, who wore white crystalette dresses with carnation pink sashes of chiffon. They carried pink baskets of rose petals. The mother of the bride wore a mauve lace dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Eliza M. Edens, wore a dress of ice blue lace with matching accessories. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. Ferrell Moore, wore a dress of pink lace and white accessories, Each wore corsages of carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Moore received at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs .William O. Blackwell. The home was decorated in pink and green. Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Wells introduced to the receiving line, and Miss Frances Troxler directed into the dining room.

The table was overlaid with a pink organza cloth and featured the pink tiered cake in the center, flanked by lighted tapers. Mrs. Ralph Pigue presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. William Sherman Hailey, Jr., served individual cake squares.

Mrs. Billy D. Hairfield presided at the guest register, while Miss Doris Jean Troxler received in the gift room.

Goodbyes were said to Mrs. R. N. Williams, of Maiden, N. C.

After a wedding trip through Western North Carolina, the couple will be at home in Appomattox, Va.
